Training Guarantee

Once you have commenced a training program, we agree to work together to produce a unified approach to achieve the relevant qualification you are undertaking.

In the event we are unable to provide you with continued training, WBS will provide a refund for training which has not been delivered and will make every effort to place you with another training provider to complete your training.

If WBS ceases operations or no longer delivers any part of the agreed training program, we will support you by sourcing another training provider suitable to deliver the program and easily accessible for you. If a suitable provider cannot be sourced and the training program transferred, a refund for the training which has not been delivered will be provided.

Significant changes affecting the operations and/or agreements between WBS, you, and your organisation will be advised in writing within 30 days of the change taking place. The changes include, but are not limited to:

- Changes to training staff
- Changes to ownership
- If any third party arrangements have commenced
- Cessation of operations.

Training and assessment is provided by our own trainers and assessors and no third party arrangements are in place. WBS assures your training and assessment is delivered by qualified trainers and assessors in accordance with the Standards for RTOs 2015 and will issue compliant AQF qualifications.

WBS is responsible for quality training and assessment, and the issuance of all Certificates of Qualifications and Statements of Attainment.

Upon successful completion of all units required to be undertaken in your chosen qualification and competent results recorded, WBS will issue a Certificate of Qualification. If you withdraw or cancel from the traineeship/course, and there are units which have a competent result recorded, a Statement of Attainment will be issued.

All Certificates and Statements of Attainment will be issued within 30 days of the recorded completion/cancellation date.

At the completion of training, you and your employer will be requested to complete a survey. The survey will be used by WBS and used as a tool to review and improve our services. See 'other information' in this handbook about participating in surveys.

Planning for Training

Competency-Based Training and Assessment Process

Competency-based training is an approach to vocational education and training that places emphasis on what a person can do in the workplace as a result of successfully completing a training program. The aim is to ensure that vocational education and training programs better meet the needs of Australia's industries and enterprises.

Assessment will be conducted in accordance with the Principles of Assessment and the Rules of Evidence as set out in the NVR Standards for Training Organisations 2015.

Principles of Assessment	Fair	Flexible	Valid	Reliable
Rules of Evidence	Valid	Sufficient	Authentic	Current

Outcomes reflect workplace duties, working environments and performance requirements. This should include performing higher level duties such as planning, problem solving and managing tasks through to completion. Qualifications are comprised of Units of Competency that contain specific learning outcomes, which are based on standards set by the particular Training Package and Industry requirements. The delivery of your training will mainly occur in the workplace, using online resources. This process ensures an overall understanding of all skills and knowledge is achieved.

Your trainer/assessor will be in contact with you regularly and also visit you. They will provide training to you as each unit is delivered and advise you of the expectations of the unit and the tasks within it. Your trainer/assessor will provide you with timeframes of when each unit/s are due for completion. Assessment practices are inclusive of both formative and summative activities.

Assessment is the process of collecting evidence and making judgments on whether competency has been achieved. The purpose of assessment is to confirm you can perform to the standard expected in the workplace, as expressed in the relevantly endorsed industry or enterprise competency standards within a Training Package. Assessments through this course will require you to complete a variety of written work and demonstration of skills. These will be in the form of questions and answers (written and/or oral), projects, roleplays, assignments/workplace portfolio and observations. Supervisory supporting evidence will also be gathered. If undertaking a traineeship, successful completion occurs when on the job training has been successfully completed.

Each assessment task, when completed successfully, will be recorded by the assessor as Satisfactory.

Assessment tasks undertaken throughout each unit may involve:

- Written questions
- Online practical activities
- Case studies/scenarios
- Observations
- Projects
- Role plays

Supporting evidence will be collected in the form of:

- Third Party supervisor report
- Portfolio of evidence

As each assessment task is completed, you will be advised of the result. All questions must be answered satisfactorily to achieve a satisfactory outcome. The demonstration of skills must also be satisfactory. The outcome will be recorded as Satisfactory. Once all components of the assessment are completed successfully, a Competent outcome will be awarded. You will have two submission attempts for each assessment task, or as determined by your assessor.

Reassessment

Where an assessment has been marked as NS (Not Satisfactory), you will be offered the opportunity to be re-assessed immediately. If you are deemed NS a second time, further training will be provided before attempting the assessment again and you will be deemed Not Yet Competent.

At this time, the training program will be revisited with the assessor, workplace supervisor and yourself and the training programme may be amended or further training provided. If the unit is a core, further training and support will be delivered later in the program.

To be clear, maximum number of attempts to achieve competency is two (2). As participants are encouraged to submit progressively, this process is not counted toward 'number of attempts'. There is no charge to trainees who attempt a unit more than twice.

Reasonable Adjustments

WBS complies with State and Commonwealth Equal Opportunity, Anti-discrimination and Disability discrimination legislation and will apply reasonable adjustment as required during the training and assessment process.

It is expected you, the participant, will declare any disability and/or special need during the enrolment process and where necessary the trainer will make adjustments to meet the needs of the trainee.

The adjustments made will not compromise the outcomes required for this Qualification. Reasonable adjustments could include:

- Allowing the participant to undertake their written assessments in a verbal format.
- Adjusting location for assessment to accommodate a trainee.
- Allowing more time for the trainee to complete the assessment.
- Writing instructions or diagrams to ensure the trainee understands what is required for the assessment.

Capacity to Train

Every workplace is different. To ensure you get the most out of your training program, WBS will ask your Employer Partner, or employer to complete a Capacity to Train Form at or before the commencement of your program. The form is to ensure your workplace has the capabilities and resources required to support your training program.

Recognition of Prior Learning and Credit Transfer

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is the acknowledgment of skills and knowledge obtained through formal learning, through a structured training program linked to an AQF qualification, non-formal learning which has taken place through a structured training program, but does not lead to the attainment of an AQF qualification or work experience and/or life experience. The purpose of this process is to identify and assess previously acquired skills and knowledge against the required competency standards.

All participants will be offered the opportunity to apply for RPL before enrolment (during the Pre-training Review) and the commencement of training. Participants who apply for RPL must provide evidence to the satisfaction of WBS. This evidence must clearly indicate that the applicant is able to demonstrate all the required skills and knowledge.

Information and documentation regarding the application procedure for RPL and/or Credit Transfers is available to all participants on our website. www.wbs.org.au/rpl-ct

Please note that RPL cannot be granted for part of a unit. Any applicant may appeal in writing against a decision regarding RPL to the Administration and Compliance Manager by following the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure.

Australian Qualifications and Statements of Attainments that have been issued by any other Registered Training Organisation (RTO) will be recognised by WBS.

Credit transfer (CT) is the process where the WBS accepts and provides credit to you for units of competency that you have completed at another training organisation. Western Business School will recognise awards issued by other Registered Training Organisations under the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Units should relate to the current course you are about to undertake. To apply for a Credit Transfer, you must submit evidence of completion, by providing us with the original, or with a certified copy of the AQF Qualification, either a Statement of Attainment or Qualification with a Record of Results. Providing us with access to your USI transcript, will also enable us to authenticate any prior qualifications.

An application for credit transfer is to be completed. The application for Credit Transfer is available on our website. www.wbs.org.au/rpl-ct

During the process of your orientation, and enrolment, WBS will seek your consent, confirmation of understanding and ask you to sign a declaration that relates to:

Pre Training Review

WBS recognises that reading, writing, listening, speaking and mathematical concepts are integral skills required for work and are therefore an important component of training. As all participants are individuals with different life experiences, literacy and numeracy skills will vary.

Before your enrolment, you, will participate in a Pre-training Review. This review consists of an interview, language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) test, the outcomes of which will be used to assess your LLN capabilities and ensure the qualification you are about to undertake is suitable for you and your role.

During the Pre-training review, we will ask you questions which relate to your ability to complete the course. These questions may relate to declaration of a disability, illness of a family member, mental health issues, or any other circumstances which could interfere with your training. During this process, opportunities for RPL and Credit Transfer will be discussed and offered.

Declaring you have a need for support does not exclude you from participating in the program. It does assist us to assess you and your support needs and we ask you answer these questions honestly. We cannot help you if you do not declare a need.

The Student Support Services Policy allows for participants in need of support to access services. You can access any of these sites at any time.

We encourage participants with Language Literacy or Numeracy concerns to continue training and to speak with their assessor, or their workplace mentor and we will endeavour to provide the appropriate support. Where we are unable to provide the support, WBS will refer to you an appropriate support network.

Participant Support Services

Being a participant is exciting, but it can also be challenging. All RTO staff can be approached to gain advice on any issues you have with your training in the workplace. Staff at WBS will offer professional and confidential advice in areas where they can help and will ensure that all efforts are taken to ensure a positive learning experience is achieved.

Our training staff will provide support during the training program and can assist you with difficulties which may develop. Most of our learning resources are accessed via our online portal, however, if necessary and to suit your needs, hard copy resources are also available. Trainers may also visit you on a more frequent basis if a learning difficulty warrants this form of support. Support during the learning process may come in many different forms. Discussions held between your assessor, Employer Partner, or employer and the workplace mentor will determine the best form of support to be implemented. From time to time support classes are held at our offices in Abbotsford and North Strathfield; your assessor will advise when they occur.

The Administration and Compliance Manager or your assessor are able to provide links to external sources of support where the staff at WBS are not qualified or it is in your best interest to seek professional advice.

Collection of personal information

Where practicable, we will endeavour to collect personal information directly from you.

Where services are provided on behalf of a Commonwealth and/or State Government Department, we may collect personal information from such government departments and agencies, this includes collecting information to enable us to create a Unique Student Identifier on your behalf. WBS will obtain your written consent before completing this process. The personal information we receive from you for the generation of a USI will not be retained, unless required for other purposes relating to your training.

For Victorian students, we will collect information from you which will allow us to obtain your Victorian Student Number; a requirement by the Victorian State Government.

We may also need to collect personal information from other third parties with or without your direct involvement or consent, such as an employer. However, this will not include sensitive information.

Use and disclosure

We will ensure that the information you provide to us remains private and is used only for the purposes you agree to.

You may choose to opt out of the NCVER Survey at the time of being contacted.

Unique Student Identifier (USI)

A Unique Student Identifier (USI) is effectively a reference number made up of numbers and letters that gives you access to your USI account and must be reported by WBS. Your USI will stay with you for life and will be recorded with any nationally recognised VET training course, including traineeships or non-traineeships undertaken from January 2015 onwards.

The USI will allow you to have easier and more reliable online access to your training history records. You will also be able to produce a comprehensive transcript of your training. This can be used when applying for a job, seeking a credit transfer or demonstrating pre-requisites when undertaking further training.

You can apply for your own USI in the USI Registry or you may seek the assistance of WBS, who will apply for a USI on your behalf. We can only apply for a USI for you if we have your permission. We will seek this permission during your orientation. At the orientation, we will provide you with information relating to privacy surrounding the USI. Any identification gathered for the sole purpose of creating a USI will be destroyed.

The USI Transcript Service was activated on 22 May 2017. Once you have a USI, you can use this to access your national training record in the form of a USI Transcript. The transcript should include details of all non-exempt nationally recognised training completed or commenced since 2015 and available as part of the national VET collection. Training activity data is reported by training providers either annually or quarterly. The full list of available annual and quarterly data currently included in a transcript is shown in the USI Transcript – Available Data information. The transcript will collate training outcomes from different training providers, in different states, and across different years – in the one record. You will be able to download or print your USI Transcript and share it electronically with any registered training provider if you choose to from within your USI account.

Giving permission to WBS to view your transcript in the USI portal is the most efficient way to ensure we award applicable Credit Transfers to you. On our website, you will find instructions how to complete this process. Further information regarding the USI can be accessed from the USI register at <http://www.usi.gov.au/Students>

Misconduct

While attending training with WBS. You are expected to maintain the highest standards of personal and academic conduct. We know that most participants conduct themselves with integrity and are eager to do their best and achieve their qualification. Sometimes, cheating and plagiarism can occur whether it is intentional or not and WBS will take action if this behaviour is identified. The following information should help you avoid unintentional academic misconduct and clarify the consequences of plagiarism and/or cheating.

Academic misconduct

Your learner resources are accessible via our online portal and you will be given a personal logon and password. Under no circumstances should these details be passed onto another colleague, supervisor, or participant. If personal details are shared, this will be considered as academic misconduct and may result in you, the participant, having to resubmit, be suspended or withdrawn from the training program.

Definitions

Plagiarism

Is the act of presenting another persons' work as your own, and failing to acknowledging that the thought, ideas or writings are of another person. Plagiarism is a form of cheating.

Specifically it occurs when:

- other people's work and/or ideas are paraphrased and presented without a reference;
- other participants' work is copied or partly copied;
- phrases and passages are used verbatim without quotation marks and/or without a reference to the author or a web page;
- direct copy and pasting from articles or work from the internet which are paraphrased and presented without a reference.

Cheating

To act dishonestly or unfairly in connection to an assessment conducted by the RTO. To cheat (whether successful or not) is deliberately making an attempt to deceive WBS into acknowledging work which is not the participants own work. Cheating including assisting someone else to cheat may be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with the Academic Misconduct Policy.

Academic misconduct is considered a serious offence at WBS. For participants who have been deemed to intentionally plagiarise/ cheat, it may result in being suspended, or permanently removed from the course.

To avoid plagiarism and/or cheating and its penalties, participants are advised to note the following:

- You may quote from someone else's work (for example from textbooks, journals or other published materials) but you must always indicate the author and source of the material.
- You should name sources for any graphs, tables or specific data, which you include in your assignment.
- You must not copy someone else's work and present it as your own.

If you do not agree with our decision, then you may access the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure.

Non-academic misconduct

Other forms of misconduct may place your enrolment in the course at risk. This includes, but is not limited to failure to commitment to your training schedule, not meeting assessment timeframes, bullying and harassment of others, use of drugs and alcohol in the work place and failing to follow instructions by an assessor, mentor or staff members of WBS.

If it is identified that you are under the influence of drugs or alcohol while in training, the assessor will terminate the session. Assistance and support will be offered and disciplinary action may include cancellation of your course.

Infringement of others rights to privacy or intellectual property, impersonating others through online systems and or organising for others to impersonate you are also forms of non-academic misconduct.

All participants have access to the Access and Equity Policy and Academic Misconduct Policy, copies of which are available on our website. www.wbs.org.au/misconduct

Complaints and Appeals

You have access to WBS's complaints and appeals process through our website www.wbs.org.au/Complaints-and-Appeals. The complaints and appeals policy and procedure ensures that fair and equitable processes are implemented for any complaint or appeal against WBS.

WBS advises the Administration and Compliance Manager is the delegated Consumer Protection Officer and can be contacted on 1300 656 461 or email info@wbs.org.au

You may appeal any assessment decision made by WBS in regards to an assessment outcome. If you feel you have been unfairly judged and assessed on a specified task, project or activity you may request the assessment be reviewed by submitting a written appeal, using the approved complaints and appeals form, located at the back of this handbook, or on the website. You must provide supporting evidence or explanations as to why you feel the assessment is unfair and why you should be given further opportunity to be assessed.

All participants, employees and or contractors are entitled to make a complaint to WBS. In the first instance, we recommend the complaint be resolved informally, by approaching us or the individual personally.

Where possible all informal attempts shall be made to resolve the complaint. This may include advice, discussions, and general mediation in relation to the issue. Any staff can be involved in this informal process. WBS recommends the following staff members for informal resolution:

- WBS – Workplace Trainer/Assessor
- WPC – Industry consultant (workplace mentor)
- Your direct supervisor/manager
- Administration and Compliance Manager

However, despite all efforts of the RTO to provide satisfactory services, complaints may occasionally arise that require formal resolution. Participants are able to submit a formal complaint to WBS relating to any concern they may have should they feel a person has acted inappropriately or they have been treated unfairly. All complaints are handled with confidence and are reviewed by the Administration and Compliance Manager. The Administration and Compliance Manager shall ensure that WBS will act immediately on any complaint and contact the complainant within 10 days of the date of application. Submit applications via email info@wbs.org.au

The Administration and Compliance Manager shall then refer the matter to the appropriate staff member for resolution, or make a decision on the complaint within 10 working days. They will keep you (the complainant) informed of any processes in place to deal with the complaint or advise of any decisions or outcomes concluded. If WBS requires more than 60 days to finalise the complaint, we will contact you (the complainant) in writing advising of the circumstances which are causing the delay. Regular updates will be provided every 7 – 10 days.

While a complaint is in progress, you are entitled to continue training and will not be disadvantaged by the complaint process or any outcomes. Once a complaint or appeal has been resolved, whether in favour of the participant or WBS, the RTO Administration Manager will advise the relevant parties in writing of the outcome within 7 working days of the final outcome.

Everyone has access to the complaints and appeals policy and procedure from our website. The complaints/appeals form is at the back of this handbook and is also located on our website in a downloadable format. See: www.wbs.org.au/complaints-and-appeals

Disciplinary procedures

Where WBS have made all reasonable attempts to resolve behavioural issues stemming from complaints and misconduct, disciplinary procedures may occur. All meetings and procedures relating to discipline will be in confidence.

Stage 1: Discussion and Verbal Warning. This is a verbal conversation where the trainee/student and his/her manager or supervisor should discuss the relevant issues/incidents and the implications of further unsatisfactory misconduct. A file note is placed in the trainee/student file.

Stage 2: First Written Warning. If there is no significant improvement in performance as agreed in Stage 1, or another incident takes place, the trainee/student will be issued with a written warning which details the nature of the activity requiring attention, the period of time in which improvement, or reassessment is expected, and the means by which such improvement can be achieved and is to be measured.

Stage 3: Cancellation of training. This is a final warning issued if there is no marked improvement and the trainee/student will be cancelled from the course. The relevant trainer will complete the written warning, detailing the reasons.

Participant Safety

WBS has a number of processes to provide a safe and secure learning environment to all participants.

Participant Safety Tips – Travelling to and from work

- Don't openly carry valuables, including headphones, mobile phones, laptops, etc.
- Find suitable and safe routes when going out to shops, night spots and refuelling. Use routes which are well lit and busy.
- Know where your local police station is located.
- Avoid confrontation - it is better and safer to walk away if you are being provoked.
- If you feel you are being followed, cross the street, and if you are still worried, move as quickly as possible to a public area (such as a restaurant) and then telephone for help.
- At night, walk in well-lit areas and on busier streets, not dark alleyways and side-streets.
- Have your keys ready well before you reach the door of your car or house.
- If you are going away, tell someone you trust where you are going and when you will be back.
- If travelling by bus or tram at night, try not to wait alone at the bus or tram stops.
- If you are travelling by train at night, do not sit in an empty carriage. Try to sit near groups of people in a well-lit area.
- Check the time of the last train, bus or tram home to avoid being stranded at night.
- Avoid walking alone after getting off public transport at night. If you can, walk close to a group of people or arrange for someone to meet you.
- In the case of an emergency the contact '000' via telephone to report the emergency to appropriate authorities.

Other Information

National Centre for Vocational Education and Research (NCVER)

Participants may expect to receive an invitation from National Centre for Vocational Education Research (NCVER) to seek their views on learning, education and training by participating in a survey, or a Department-endorsed project or audit or review.

Invitations to participate in surveys may also be received from State Governments and the regulator ASQA. When approached to undertake a survey by the department/s, you are obliged to participate.

Please note, you may opt out of the NCVER survey at the time of being contacted.

Legislation

Legislation and Regulations are an important part of the training program. To ensure training is delivered within the legislation and regulations in place and you, the participant, are informed of relevant legislation and regulations while undertaking training, a list of relevant legislation and regulations is provided below. The list does not advise of all legislation, however, key legislation and regulations are referenced.

Legislation and Regulations are often reviewed and updated. When changes to legislation and regulation occur which affect the participant, we will advise the participant within 30 days of the change coming into effect. Participants will be issued with an updated version of the Participant Information Handbook and advised to review the new legislation which affects their role. Trainers and assessors will also be informed through email and/or meetings.
